Every child should have an enlightenment period where they are interested in drawing and experimenting with materials. Open to young children who like to doodle and have a desire to express their ideas.

Guiding and inspiring students through thematic contents, lean and engage in creative activities

- 1.5 hours per week to complete a relatively simple piece of artwork or a small craft on a related theme, which is easy for children to accept.
- The theme of "sky's the limit" will make your child fall in love with drawing and painting. Dare to scribble, dare to do it, cultivate children's subjective ability to express themselves, use abstract forms to express concrete forms, reasonable guidance, no constraints and no control over children.
- We do not put pressure on children, but encourage them to cultivate their interest in painting, fully understand and accept the unsmooth lines and messy colors at the early stage of painting, and do not intervene in a dogmatic way, but give them more space to express themselves freely!
- Teachers accompany children patiently, so that children have a sense of security when drawing.
- Teaching speed is relatively slow, giving children more time and space when they come into contact with art, cultivating children's artistic aesthetics and color perception, stimulating children's creative nature, and guiding children to express themselves freely.

Open to students with a strong interest in drawing and painting, as well as experience in basic modeling and the use of media. We help each student work at his/her own pace to improve fundamentals, break through techniques, and build a portfolio and artistic style for advanced creative training.
*Artworks need to be reviewed for admission into the class.

Class Objectives

Observation | Technique | Expression | Independent Creation

Project-Based Curriculum Structure

Each unit is centered around a creative project, guiding students to explore observation, composition, and expression through hands-on practice.

Emphasis on Artistic Practice

Each project includes three stages: media training, technique breakdown, and final creation. Students move through a complete process of “practice to final artwork,” developing both technical skills and creative thinking.

While building core abilities, the course emphasizes real artistic expression and personal interpretation. Using a range of materials such as pencil, watercolor, acrylic, and mixed media, students are guided to observe, construct, and express through each assigned task.

Individualized Guidance & Group Placement

Students are placed in Beginner, Intermediate, or Advanced levels based on drawing experience, response style, and visual performance. Teachers tailor feedback and set level-appropriate challenges to ensure every student grows at their own pace while building confidence and creative independence.

- Beginner: Develop core skills in structure, proportion, and color basics

WEEK 11-15 ACRYLIC COLOR & EMOTION	Practice basic color theory and painting techniques through shape and palette exercises	Use color to convey emotion and story, applying various painting and texture styles	Deepen techniques and explore stylized brushwork and textures to unify visual style and feeling
WEEK 16-20 COLOR PENCIL TEXTURE & DETAIL	Practice gradients of value and saturation to build volume and smooth transition	Focus on high-contrast textures like metal, glass, and leather	Combine colored pencil with other media to refine detail and finish a presentation-ready piece
